Books especially chosen for ADVANCED, MATURE READERS

Please note, these books are not included in your preview packs

51. Cool Nukes

288pp.

Max, Jian and Cleo are working on a science project, they are making something spectacular for the ExpoFest Science Fair. If it works, their machine will be worth a fortune. But then things start to get weird... and dangerous! There are two shocking laboratory explosions! The friends have to figure out if they have the recipe for a nuclear device that could solve all of humankind's energy problem - and is it worth a life?

52. Ransomwood

268pp.

This is a mix of an adventure story, a love story and a riveting read. With her uncle threatening to marry her off to his widowed brother, Gwenifer embarks on a perilous journey. She journeys with Harry, the village halfwit, who has been accused of being in charge of an ox that trampled a child almost to death and has been sentenced to hang. Together they travel with each of them searching for a different kind of healing.

Sherryl Jordan is an internationally acclaimed New Zealand author. 'Sherryl Jordan shows superb control of dramatic tension ...' - Evening Post

53. Slide the Corner

240pp.

Greg is bored at school and misunderstood at home. His Dad reckons he is thick, as thick as crude oil. The rest of his family are real brains and Greg and his Mum are expected to be the same. But Greg is different. He has practical skills which his father doesn't understand. All Greg wants to do is to drive a rally car and be a mechanic. It is not until Greg stumbles upon Brad, a mechanic and a rally car driver, that his life changes for the better. The two begin to work together to win on the rally car circuit. Fleur Beale is an acclaimed and award winning New Zealand author. Slide the Corner is the winner of the Gaelyn Gordon Award for a Much-Loved Book.

54. Argenta

253pp.

The birdpeople of the planet Argenta are slowly dying out. Anquin, a young birdboy, must watch over the eggs and ensure the survival of the Clan. But Anquin rejects the bleak future that has been carefully planned for him and flies into the icy Forbidden Zone. Unexpectedly transported to Earth, he meets Martin, an Earth boy bored with the summer holidays and with dreams of being a superhero. Together they must try to rescue the Clan from slavery - and stop an invasion of Earth.

"A fast-moving science fiction adventure with ingenious plotting and sympathetic characters. This lively and enjoyable first novel put me in mind of the impact of Robert Heinlein's classic science fiction novels for young people." - Trevor Agnew

55. Jane Eyre

230pp.

"I am no bird; and no net ensnares me" So says Jane Eyre. She is orphaned into the household of her Aunt where she is subject to the cruel regime at Lowood charity school. But Jane emerges unbroken in spirit and integrity. She takes on a role as governess and little does she know what awaits her. An epic romance and a book that girls will read again and again. Charlotte Brontë was born in Yorkshire in 1816 and attended the Clergy Daughter's School, which she later said was the inspiration for the grim Lowood School in the book. Jane Eyre went on to become a literary classic and has been made into many film adaptations.

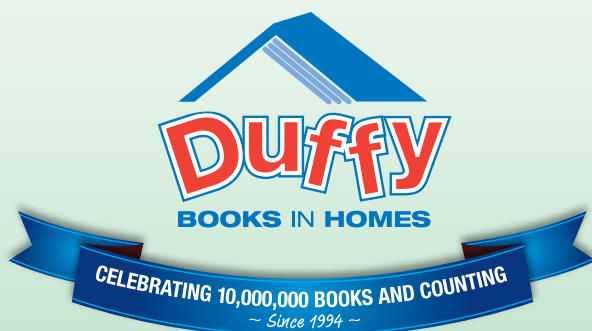

56. Frankenstein

256 pp.

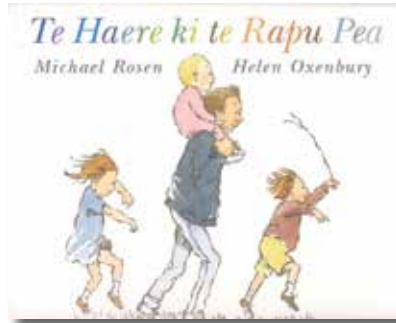

"If I cannot inspire love, I will cause fear!" Victor Frankenstein creates a monster during a scientific experiment and single handedly unleashes a terrible force that he cannot control. Can he destroy this monster before it destroys everything he cares about? Mary Shelley was born in London in 1797, the second child of the writer Mary Wollstonecraft. Frankenstein is Mary Shelley's most famous book. It has become an iconic work in the horror genre and has inspired countless film and stage adaptations.
